Introduction

Astrology is an old-fashion science which believed that the stars influence our lives. Using it, we have developed a theme to bind certain elements of our year-book together. All school events occur in chronological order using the Zodiac as a type of calendar. And who knows, maybe "the stars in their courses do fight on our side"!

Young Government For New School

The addition of a junior high school to Mechanic Arts this year, brought many changes to our school activities. Besides boosting membership of our young band, the new seventh, eighth, and ninth graders gave added attendance to our sports events, and took part in the Junior Vodvil Revue.

With their own twenty-one member student council, the Junior High also had an opportunity to work with the senior high Student Council in such worthwhile projects as the Junior Red Cross drive. Next year, with a year's experience in student government, they will begin projects of their own.

Class of '69 Welcomes Spring With Dance

The Class of '69 was largely occupied with class elections and their annual spring dance.

Under the direction of Mr. Schmitt, the new sophomore class advisor, the sophomores did much toward contributing to their junior and senior treasuries.

In their class meetings there was much debate over the question of sponsoring a dance or a roller skating party. After much heated discussion a spring dance was finally decided upon. The dance was held in the school gymnasium, and it proved to be a feather in the sophomores' caps, due to its comparative success.

Thinking themselves unnoticed in the shadows of the upperclassmen, the sophomores proved to be a hard-working group that took an active part in school life.

Successful Year For Junior Class

Led by President Lauretia Henderson and under the supervision of Mr. Jacobsen, the class of 1968 worked like beavers to make this year's Junior Class a successful one.

The first item on the year's agenda was the class elections. Posters were put up and campaign speeches were made. Right after the elections the juniors began preparing for the Vodvil. Posters were made and tickets were printed. Despite the usual grumbles about the seniors taking over, the junior class enjoyed record results. Following the Vodvil the juniors settled down to rest, with the only strenuous activity up to the Prom, being the choosing of class rings. Again the rings were gold engraved with blue stones.

Perhaps the most exciting event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom, was presented with a great amount of excitement. For the juniors, the Prom was a successful completion to a successful year.

Principal Mr. George Kirkeby

Asst. Principal Mr. Ray Peterson

Best wishes, James Peterson

The Core Of Our Universe

Mr. George Kirkeby in his second year as principal of Mechanic Arts, walks quietly, carries no big stick, is never obvious, and is never "on stage". Mr. Kirkeby's leadership is the kind that encourages personal response, and this has produced a faculty that is concerned because it is involved — and this has run off on the students. By keeping himself off stage, Mr. Kirkeby caused others to perform.

Mr. Ray Peterson is personally involved with the students, particularly those students with problems. Because of his personal commitments, Mr. Peterson's task is a heavy one, for the problems of students become his and the solution must satisfy both students and teachers. Mr. Peterson stands in the middle, and he reaches in both directions.

Have Their Influence Upon Us

ACT tests and College Boards, MSAT and Iowa tests, were all a part of Mechanic Art's counselors' work.

Mr. Frank May, the new junior high counselor, and Mr. Nicholas Olsen, who serves in an administrative capacity, worked hard all year to orient the Junior High School students with life at Mechanic Arts.

Mr. Maralyn Ingwell, the new senior counselor, had a busy year preparing seniors for college or full-time jobs, while Mr. Rollie Moynagh helped sophomores and juniors choose classes, take tests, and decide where their interests and skills lay.

Words And Ideas

Senior English cannot be said to have the same format as underclass English classes. This was especially true this year. Art, music and philosophy were discussed and interpreted, with "love" "self" and decision as guide words. With Mr. George Janisch as head of the English department, each student was given the responsibility of expressing his opinions and beliefs as an individual.

The World Of Others...

The governing of our country is important and meaningful to each of us only if we participate in that government. The workings behind this government and the reasons for this government were the subject matter of Social Studies classes. M. A. students looked behind the scenes to find out what makes an election, protocol of government, the work required to pass a bill through Congress, and were made aware of their rights and responsibilities as American Citizens.

In Abstraction

Mr. Daryl Beissler

Students often get a confused, worried look on their faces when they hear such words as logarithmus, functions, postulants and theorems. If you have noticed fewer looks of distress at the mention of these things, it is due to the fact that the Math Department has cleared up the mystery surrounding them. Geometry, Algebra and "Elementary Mathematical Analysis" were all offered to give M. A.'s students a knowledge of these "age old" mysteries.

In Nature

Dissecting a frog, displacing hydrogen by water, conserving wildlife, and balancing a gyroscope are a few of the experiences the Science Department offers. With a year of science a required subject, each student was given the chance to develop an interest and knowledge in Biology, General Science, Chemistry, Conservation and Physics. Each student also had the chance to blow up the school in Chemistry lab or to disprove the law of gravity.

Under the leadership of Mr. Kent Hinshaw, Mechanic Arts students are given a fine opportunity to develop their interest and knowledge in all the different phases of science.

And The Arts

Drama, Music, and Art, all merge into the "Arts". In this department, the students illustrated their creative abilities in the Vodvil, the Class Play, the Choir, the Band, and the Art classes.

Making Of Patterns

The Industrial Arts Department, headed by Mr. Melgeorge, worked hard to give Mechanic Arts boys training in electricity, drafting, and wood and metal crafting. Separate attention was given to each boy's special skills and problems. This treatment of each boy as an individual may be the reason many trainers plan a career in industrial arts.

And Of Homes

On the fourth floor of Mechanic Arts Building, one who passes through the halls may hear the whirring of sewing machines from Miss Einum's room, while noticing the pleasing odors which radiated from Mrs. Banks' room right down the hall. This is our Home Economics Department, where under the watchful eyes of Miss Einum, Mrs. Banks, and Mrs. Coonan, new to M. A. this year, the girls of Mechanic Arts were trained for their future vocations as women, wives, and mothers.

Mrs. Jeanne Coonan

Mrs. Marjorie Banks

And Of Contracts

Credits and Debits, typing and shorthand, and correspondence and spelling are a few of the items that are discussed and performed by the students who are involved in M. A.'s Business Department. Under the supervision of Mr. Keenan, and helped along by the fantastic jokes of Mr. Kranz, students have an excellent opportunity to prepare themselves for the Business World.

Mr. Gerald Keenan

Miss Gladys Smith

And Of Health

Amid sweat socks, gym suits, tennis shoes, whistles, steamy showers, etc., the physical education department functioned. In this department, M. A. students are trained in physical fitness and health education.

The Physical Education Department was enlarged, due to the addition of the junior high school. New additions to the department were Mrs. Amey and Mr. Jensen.

The Physical Education Department greatly influenced the trend of school life.

Co-ordinators Recruit Training Plus Income

The On-the-Job Training Program played a large part in the school life of Mechanic Arts seniors. The co-ordinators also played important roles in the training of these seniors in their chosen vocations. On-the-Job Training is a program in which seniors attend school for the three morning class periods and spend the remainder of the day working at part-time jobs. The co-ordinators recruited the jobs, and then supervised the seniors in these jobs throughout the year.

Mr. Henzel and Mr. Novaczyk supervised those seniors that chose jobs in miscellaneous trades. Most of the seniors that came under this heading continued their training at St. Paul Area Technical-Vocational Institute. In addition to their jobs as guides and counselors, Mr. Henzel and Mr. Novaczyk taught Occupational Relations.

In Occupational Relations the students studied the different factors connected with the working world, such as; unions, social security, and workmen's compensation.

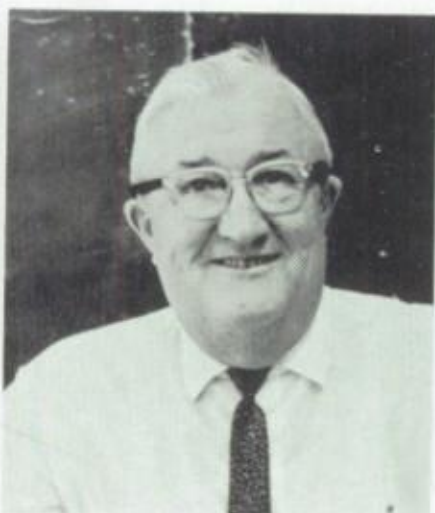

Mr. Williams was the distributive co-ordinator. He was kept busy supervising those seniors with jobs concerning the distribution of goods. Those jobs included work concerned with customer service, sales work, stock personnel, and the delivery of goods.

Mrs. Hormann, the clerical co-ordinator, dealt with the seniors wanting or holding clerical jobs, such as; clerk typists, stenographers, and telephone operators.

Each co-ordinator recruited the majority of the jobs for those students coming under their certain divisions, with a few students finding their own jobs. They also helped in giving personal attention to each and every student.

Offering Guidance And Help

Guidance and help: These were the key words that described the purpose of the Special Education Program. The Special Education Department is set up to give extra help to students having difficulty in academic subjects, including English, math, social studies, and science. These same students are integrated with regular students for home economics, industrial arts, physical education, music and art.

Additionally, an On-the-Job Training Program is offered to special class students during their junior and senior years. This program involved vocational training and working experience for them.

Due to the fine endeavors of the Special Education Department, those students that were part of the program can look forward to brighter futures in their varying fields of interest.

Office Staffs

"What do you want?". Mrs. Heron's famous cry could be heard every morning at approximately 8:30 to 8:45 A.M. in the Mechanic Arts office. The office was a continual scene of hustle and bustle, with late arrivals and attendance cards being brought in. But despite odds, our astute office staff endeavored to file cards, check attendance, type reports, and answer the telephone, which is just a general picture of their many duties.

OFFICE STAFFS: ROW I: B. LaDouceur, A. Heinrichs, P. Lynch, D. Harris. ROW II: K. Nyberg, P. Engemoen, M. Carufel, M. York. ROW III: J. Anderson, J. O'Leary, S. Glaus, P. Lund.

Contributing In Research...

In the eleven years Mrs. Russell has been our librarian, she has overseen many changes in M. A.'s more than 12,000 volume library. This year's library staff was kept busy for months cataloging and filing over 300 new books, in addition to their regular duties of caring for the needs of students with term papers due or the student who just wants a good book.

And In Health

The physical growth and development of Mechanic Arts students was the responsibility of nurse Miss Hawkinson. Also she worked closely with the faculty in maintaining students good health habits.

In Service

Surrounded by mimeograph machines, electric typewriters, spirit duplicators, and thermofax machines, the school service made many jobs easier for all the Mechanic Arts teachers by typing and running off all tests.

The school service office was a scene of continual activity, for in addition to running off tests, they also did illustrations for posters and made up all the programs for school events.

Mr. Keenan, their director, is proud to say that "many of our staff have successfully graduated into today's business world".

Cafeteria and Custodians

The cafeteria staff arrives at the school at 7:00 A.M. every morning, and the hours spent between then and lunchtime are dedicated to the preparation of meals for the entire school. Equipped with up-to-date equipment, the staff daily prepared enormous amounts of meats, bread and vegetables for the many hungry M. A. students.

A familiar sight around school was the custodians. Busily unaware of the students the custodians not only kept the school clean and functioning properly, but they also kept the school walks free of the enormous amounts of snow that befell us this year.

CUSTODIANS: Paul Froehle, James Zappa, Walter Pankratz, Ted Boreen, Lawrence Bauman, Clarence Chandall.

Audio-Visual Operations

A familiar sight in the halls at Mechanic Arts was the A.V.O. boys, busily pushing movie projector carts and carrying all kinds of audio-visual apparatus.

A.V.O. is the department that takes care of the movie projectors, films, radios, televisions, and tape recorders used by M. A. faculty. Each boy receives a service credit for the hour he works with the A.V.O. equipment.

Despite Mr. Janisch's criticisms they had to put up with when interrupting his classes, the A.V.O. boys, undaunted, continued to do the school a great service.

Sounds In Uniform

Clad in uniforms of traditional navy blue and white, and captained by Charlene Belden, our Mechanic Arts A-Squad cheerleaders romped through the halls spreading good cheer and lots of school spirit.

And such industry! By means of car washes and roller skating parties, the A-Squaders succeeded in earning enough money to purchase new uniforms.

Cheerleading is hard work, but the girls loved it!

"B" Squad Cheers-On "B" Sports

With eager shouts to cheer our B-squaders on to victory over their opponents, Mechanic Arts B-squad cheerleaders led by their captain, Marilyn Smith, gave to football, basketball, wrestlers, hockey and baseball players, a lift whenever their spirits sank with their scoring ability. But their spirits rose as they saw cheerleaders jump with happiness, showing someone does care if they win or lose.

Trainers Forced To Rebuild; Finish 7th

The 1966 Mechanics Arts football team had a difficult time in the city conference, managing only two victories in eight games.

Coaches Mr. Welsch and Mr. Janisch were faced with the problem of building a contending football team with only seven lettermen returning.

The trainers, led by captains Klaus Klasens and Ivory Larkin, showed much potential in their first conference game versus defending champion Washington. Although they bowed to the presidents, the Trainers entered with contest against arch-rival Central with great optimism. Mechanics outclassed the Minutemen, 31-6 in a typical M. A. — Central thriller. The highlight of the evening was a breath-taking pass play to senior Pat Farley who scored as time ran out in the first half. One week later the Trainers shut-out Monroe 19-0 with a fine defensive display. Junior quarterback Jerry Wiley threw two TD passes to senior Joe Novotny and a third to Pat Farley.

Mechanics looked as though they might become a title contending ball club at this point of the season but they failed to gain a victory in their last eight games.

Several M. A. gridders received awards this year. Tom Platzer was named to the All-City football team and to the All-State football team of the week. Klaus Klasens and Ivory Larkin received honorable mention in the city. Calvin Jones, a junior, and Joe Novotny won the Back of the Week award which is given by the St. Paul Pioneer Press-Dispatch. Klaus Klasens received an award for being one of the five best backs in the state on his performance against Central.

Bombers Finish 8th, Show Talent

Mechanic Art's "B" Football team, coached by Mr. "Sam" Weber and Mr. Gene Selander, showed great promise this year but managed to win only one game in six attempts. The bombers' only victory was a 32-6 romp over Monroe. The "B" squad also played well against Johnson and St. Agnes but failed to win either game.

The bombers showed much talent this year that will surely contribute to next year's varsity squad. The "A" squad coaches can look forward to seeing some fine linemen such as Dan Infante, Steve Fors, and Howie Roberts, and backs such as Mark Morris, Marvin Jones, and Larry Andrews.

Mr. Weber said, "This year's "B" squad worked harder and played with much greater desire than teams that I've coached in the past. Football at Mechanics is on the upswing because of this new attitude."

Senior Led Harriers Capture Third

The 1967 Trainer Cross Country team, led by senior Gary Schmeig finished third in the city meet. The Harriers compiled a 2-3 conference record under the coaching of Mr. David Brill.

The Trainers romped over Washington's Presidents 19-36 in their first meet. Central and Monroe dropped the Trainers in their first two meets by the scores of 22-33 and 26-29 respectively. Harding fell victim to our Harriers 16-43 one week later. Highland became the third team to dump the Trainers, but in the city meet the Trainers showed that they were better than their 2-3 record.

Gary Schmieig took four first places during the season besides a sixth place finish in the city meet. Jerry Gruba took eleventh place in the city meet.

Mr. Brill said, "I will never forget the running combination of Gary Schmei Jerry Gruba, Jim Puariea, and Joe Gutterman."

Homecoming Issue First Of 12 For Cog Staff

All of the noisy voices coming from 308 during 6th hour were, in all probability, the Cog staff, producers of our school newspaper.

Under the advisorship of Mr. George Janisch, Editor Ann Murphy, along with her staff, edited 12 issues of the Cog-wheel.

Despite absent copy, nearly missed deadlines, and a bad financial turnout, the Cog staff presented to the school an accurate record of the school year 1966.

Clouds Low, Spirits High For Homecoming

"MECHANIC-IZE THE PILOTS", our 1966 Homecoming slogan, broadcasted itself from the shirts and sweaters of almost 1,000 Mechanic Arts students during Homecoming Week, 1966. The clouds were low, but spirits ran high, here at Mechanic Arts. It could be seen in anxious faces and heard in the nervous titterings of many of the Mechanic Arts students.

Our coronation was one of the nicest we've ever had, but you would not believe all the bungling mishaps that went into its preparation. Missed cues, mix-ups, tripped up curtsies and bows — the works! But all was hilarious and part of the Homecoming spirit.

Mr. Howie Shultz, former Mechanic Arts basketball coach, performed the honors of crowning our new king, Jon Enright and our new queen, Avis Smith. After the coronation Queen Avis sang "Dear Heart". This was a new part of Homecoming and it succeeded in making the Homecoming assembly even more enjoyable.

During coronation practice each candidate was given the opportunity to pose as the winner, just in case!! The wistful looks of hope on their faces was touching and the realization of what Homecoming truly is, was brought home to me: A time for work, a time for play, a time for remembrance, but most of all, a time for joy.

What is a coronation without a celebrity on hand?

Occupational Relations Provides Training

Approximately one-half of the senior class takes part in the on-the-job training program. They have the chance to receive all their credits plus training for well paying jobs which they can keep working at after graduation.

There are clerk-typist, teller-trainee, switchboard and proof reader positions for girls with clerical skills. Boys can work as delivery and stock boys and printer's apprentices. These are just a few of the numerous jobs held by Mechanic Arts seniors.

One of the requirements for on-the-job training is a class in Occupational Relations. In this class they are taught proper employer-employee relationships, the correct way to dress and act on the job, and other things that will help them in the business world. Another requirement is that the students open a savings account and put at least 5% of the savings into their accounts each week. The co-ordinators of the program felt that opening a savings account would give the students a knowledge of the value of money.

The on-the-job training program is very valuable to the students at Mechanic Arts in training them for what they will do after they leave school.

"M" Club Kept Busy With A Dance And Banquet

Mechanic Arts athletes proudly walked through the halls displaying their letters on sweaters and jackets, which earned for them the privilege of belonging to the Mechanic Arts Boys' "M" Club. The primary function of the Boys' "M" Club is to raise money for the athletic department; mainly for equipment. This year the boys sponsored the "M" Club dance, at which the Christians, a local band, played. The dance was a big hit, with many Mechanic Arts students attending. They also sponsored the annual "M" Club Banquet, at which the boys were honored for their outstanding athletic achievements.

Excitement, Work, Fun: Key Words For Vodvil Revue

The Vodvil was fun, especially the rehearsals. Missed cues, forgotten lines, unrehearsed acts, practical jokes, and our director, Mr. Richard Jacobsen's famous "pep" talks — all were part of Vodvil, 1966.

During the five weeks of rehearsal the tension mounted and by Vodvil night it was at its zenith. Consequently, high cracked voices, and butterflies in numerous stomachs.

Vodvil night was a sight to behold! Confusion and chaos reigned supreme. Kids rushing here and there, contributed mightily to this general air of excited confusion.

One hilariously tragic incident of the Vodvil was the failure of our P. A. system, on the first night, but due to the generosity of a local band, who loaned us their system, things went a bit more smoothly the second night.

A feeling of poignant nostalgia pervaded the whole cast on the last night. The tears flowed freely, but with the resiliency of youth they recovered sufficiently to make the cast party one of the wildest ever.

Inexperienced Wrestlers Finish Low

First-year coach Mr. David Jensen was faced with the problem of building a wrestling team with only four returning lettermen this year. The inexperienced Trainers beat Murray 31-23 for their only victory.

This year's team leaders were senior captain Terry Rivera, junior Craig Jones, and seniors Terry Tendle and Tom Platzer.

The wrestlers placed two men on the All-City team. Rivera took first place in the 133 lb. class in the district tournament by pinning his opponent. Jones placed second in the 112 lb. class in the district.

Next year's team should be much stronger. Only four of this year's wrestlers will not return: Rivera, Tendle, Platzer, and Benton. Mr. Jensen can hope to see next year's captain Craig Jones, and Mark Briand, Steve Fors, and Charles Harper as the team's leaders. Coach Jensen will have the opportunity to work with the young wrestlers and build them into a strong team.

Pucksters Lack Manpower; Finish Last

Coach Wally Kranz's hockey squad compiled a 5-17 overall record in this year's action, winning four out of eight in non-conference tilts and only one of fourteen in the city conference. Seniors Mike Newton and Ken Darwin, the Trainer's top scorers, received honorable mention on the All-City team.

In conference action, Central was the only team the Trainers were able to reach. Out of a three game series with the Minutemen, the pucksters captured their only conference victory 6-5 while losing 6-5 and 4-2 in the other two.

Non-conference action proved to be the best for this year's team. They outscored their opposition 41 to 23 compiling a four and four record. Their victories came against Burnsville, 10-0; Mpls. Central, 7-2; and Mpls. Vocational, 8-0.

Their trip to Madison, Wisconsin was highlighted with a 7-5 win over Madison West.

The pucksters will be looking forward to next year when they get three-fourths of their team back.

Players such as Steve Houge, in the nets; Bob Schaller and Waymond Graham at defense, and Dave Weldon and John Hall at the wings, will provide next year's action.

Trainers press, then score, in victory over Central.

"B" Pucksters Have "Tough Luck" Season

The 1-7 conference record compiled by this year's "B" pucksters definitely didn't do the boys justice. The Trainers lost three games by only one goal. Washington, Highland, and Monroe all sneaked by the "B" Bombers by one. The Trainers beat Central 7-1 for their only victory.

Freshman Jim Carufel led this year's team and was its leading scorer. Brothers Steve and Wayne Weldon also contributed greatly to the team.

Mr. Hinshaw was very optimistic because the freshmen on this year's squad looked very promising for next year. He also added that, "The puck just didn't bounce our way!"

Swimmers Finish Low; See Bright Future

Mechanic's Mermen ended this year's action with a disappointing 1-7 conference record, but they're looking toward the future with great optimism. This year's only victory was a 51-42 win over Washington.

The tankmen will lose only one man this year, senior Dale Hernandez. Coach Kerrick can expect the return of such fine swimmers as Dean Houge, Mike Wesnieski, Bob Ireland, Roger Wienki, Tom Behr, Norm Sutton, Don Carrol, Tom Smith, and Bob Salas. Next year's team can be expected to be a title contender.

Cagers Inconsistent, Finish In Tie For Fourth

Mr. Keenan's hoopsters seemed to have the potential to contend for the city title this year, but their play was very inconsistent. The Trainers found themselves able to beat teams such as Harding and Highland Park, but they lost to teams such as Washington and Monroe. They ended with a 5-7 conference record; in a tie for fourth place.

Joe Novotny led the Trainer attack throughout the season and ended as the city's leading scorer.

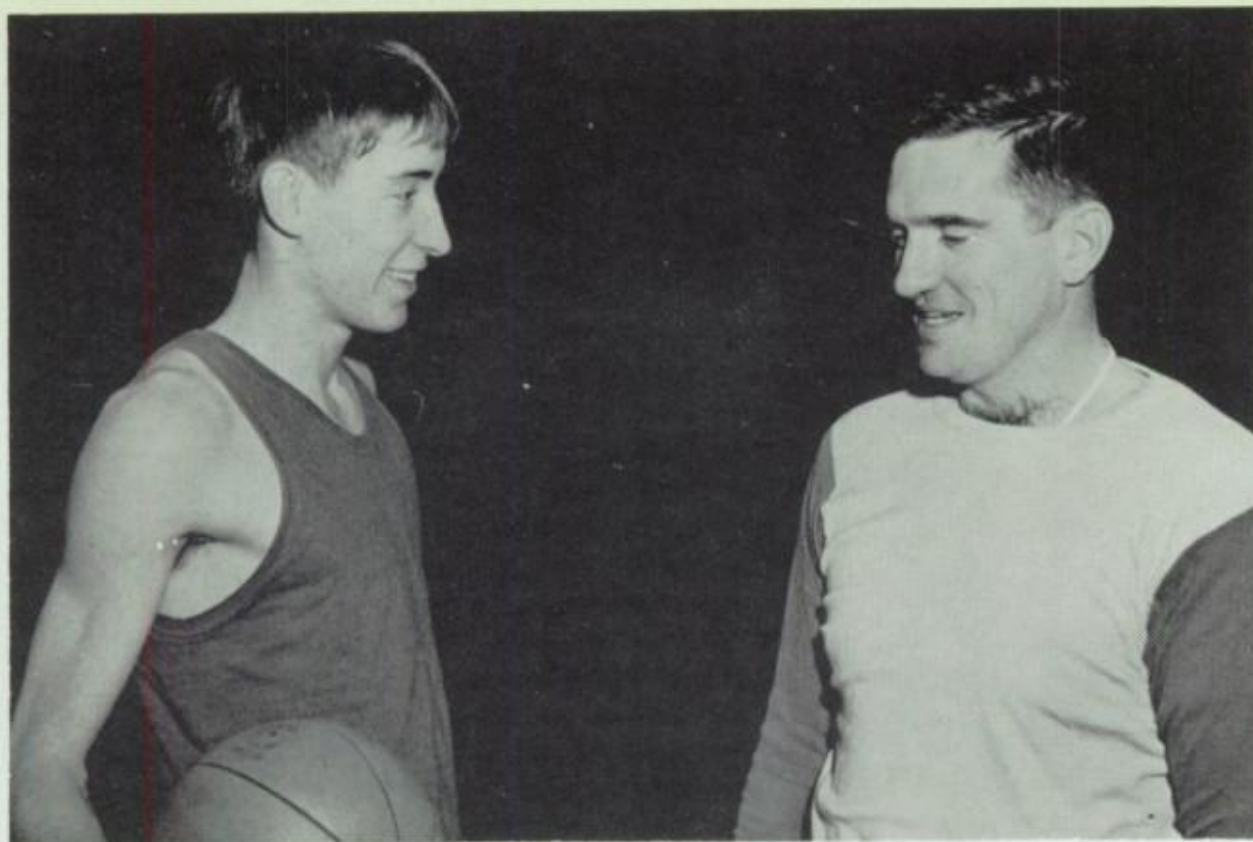

Victories over Harding and Highland highlighted the hoopster's season. Novotny scored 32 points against Harding as the Trainers handed the Knights their first defeat. Joe also scored 36 points in the Murray game. In their last game of conference play the hoopsters gained revenge for a loss to Highland by beating the Scotts 45-43 in overtime. The Trainers came from behind to tie the Scotts at the end of regulation time. With one second left in the overtime, Novotny shot from forty feet and scored the winning basket.

Joe, along with senior starters Pat Farley, Gary Schmieg, and Jim Puarea, and junior starters Jerry Wiley and Orville Whitney, led the Trainer assault.

The bucketmen should be strong again next year with the addition of Duane Krueger and Byron Robinson along with others from this year's "B" squad.

"B" Squad Starts Slow; Shows Improvement

Mr. Selander's "B" bombers started slow this year, but as he put it, "They improved 100%".

The "B" hoopsters won only one game out of their first eleven, a 34-27 victory over S.P.A. In their eleventh game, versus Washington, the Trainers lost by only one point, and their next game against Central they won 39-34. The Hoopsters lost their next contest to Harding 56-35, but turned around to beat Humboldt 56-45 in the Junior Varsity Tournament.

"A" squad coach, Mr. Keenan, can look forward to seeing prospects such as Duane Krueger, Byron Robinson, and Len Diaz next year.

Coach Selander added, "I'm proud of all our fellows and their fine attitudes and sportsmanship-like conduct; something I know Mr. Keenan will appreciate on next year's squad."

Council Initiates Student Leadership

Rushing busily around the school, this year's Student Council managed to keep the entire student body informed of various school functions initiated by them. Among the many functions that the Council sponsored, the most important and the most widely publicized was the annual Sweetheart Ball. The Council labored hard and long to secure Michael's Mystics, one of the most popular bands in the Twin-City area, to play for the Ball.

The Student Council also ran and financed the school bookstore. The bookstore was a haven for students needing last minute school supplies, not-to-mention the fine collection of classical and popular novels available to them in paper-back form. Due to its success, the bookstore was the Council's largest source of income.

During their bi-weekly meetings the Council planned such activities as the annual Christmas Drive and the yearly taking of individual student photographs. The Christmas Drive was very successful, with the Council collecting three large cartons of produce to send the "Little Sisters of the Poor" charity organization.

Taking individual pictures of the students was helpful to the faculty, it was important for keeping accurate records.

Under the new direction of Mr. O'Rourke, the Council flourished. One unusual aspect of the 1966-1967 Student Council was that the office of president was held by a junior, Dick Plaistead, for the first time. This office is usually held by a senior.

After the gruelling tension of spring elections the Student Council celebrated a successful year at a rollicking day-long picnic.

"May I have your attention, please?", says Mr. O'Rourke on his morning announcements.

Red Cross Completes Successful Drive

Mr. Kingsley Kerrick worked all year with Junior-High school students on projects for the Junior Red Cross. Every Monday after school the members came and constructed projects that were later distributed at various hospitals and rest homes to people who would get some pleasure from a gift, no matter how small.

The Junior Red Cross worked with the student council to assemble food baskets for needy families over the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays. They also worked to get students to donate new school supplies to the Red Cross, using baskets placed in each homeroom. The baskets of supplies were later distributed to the children's hospitals around the twin cities to be used as a part of the physical therapy program.

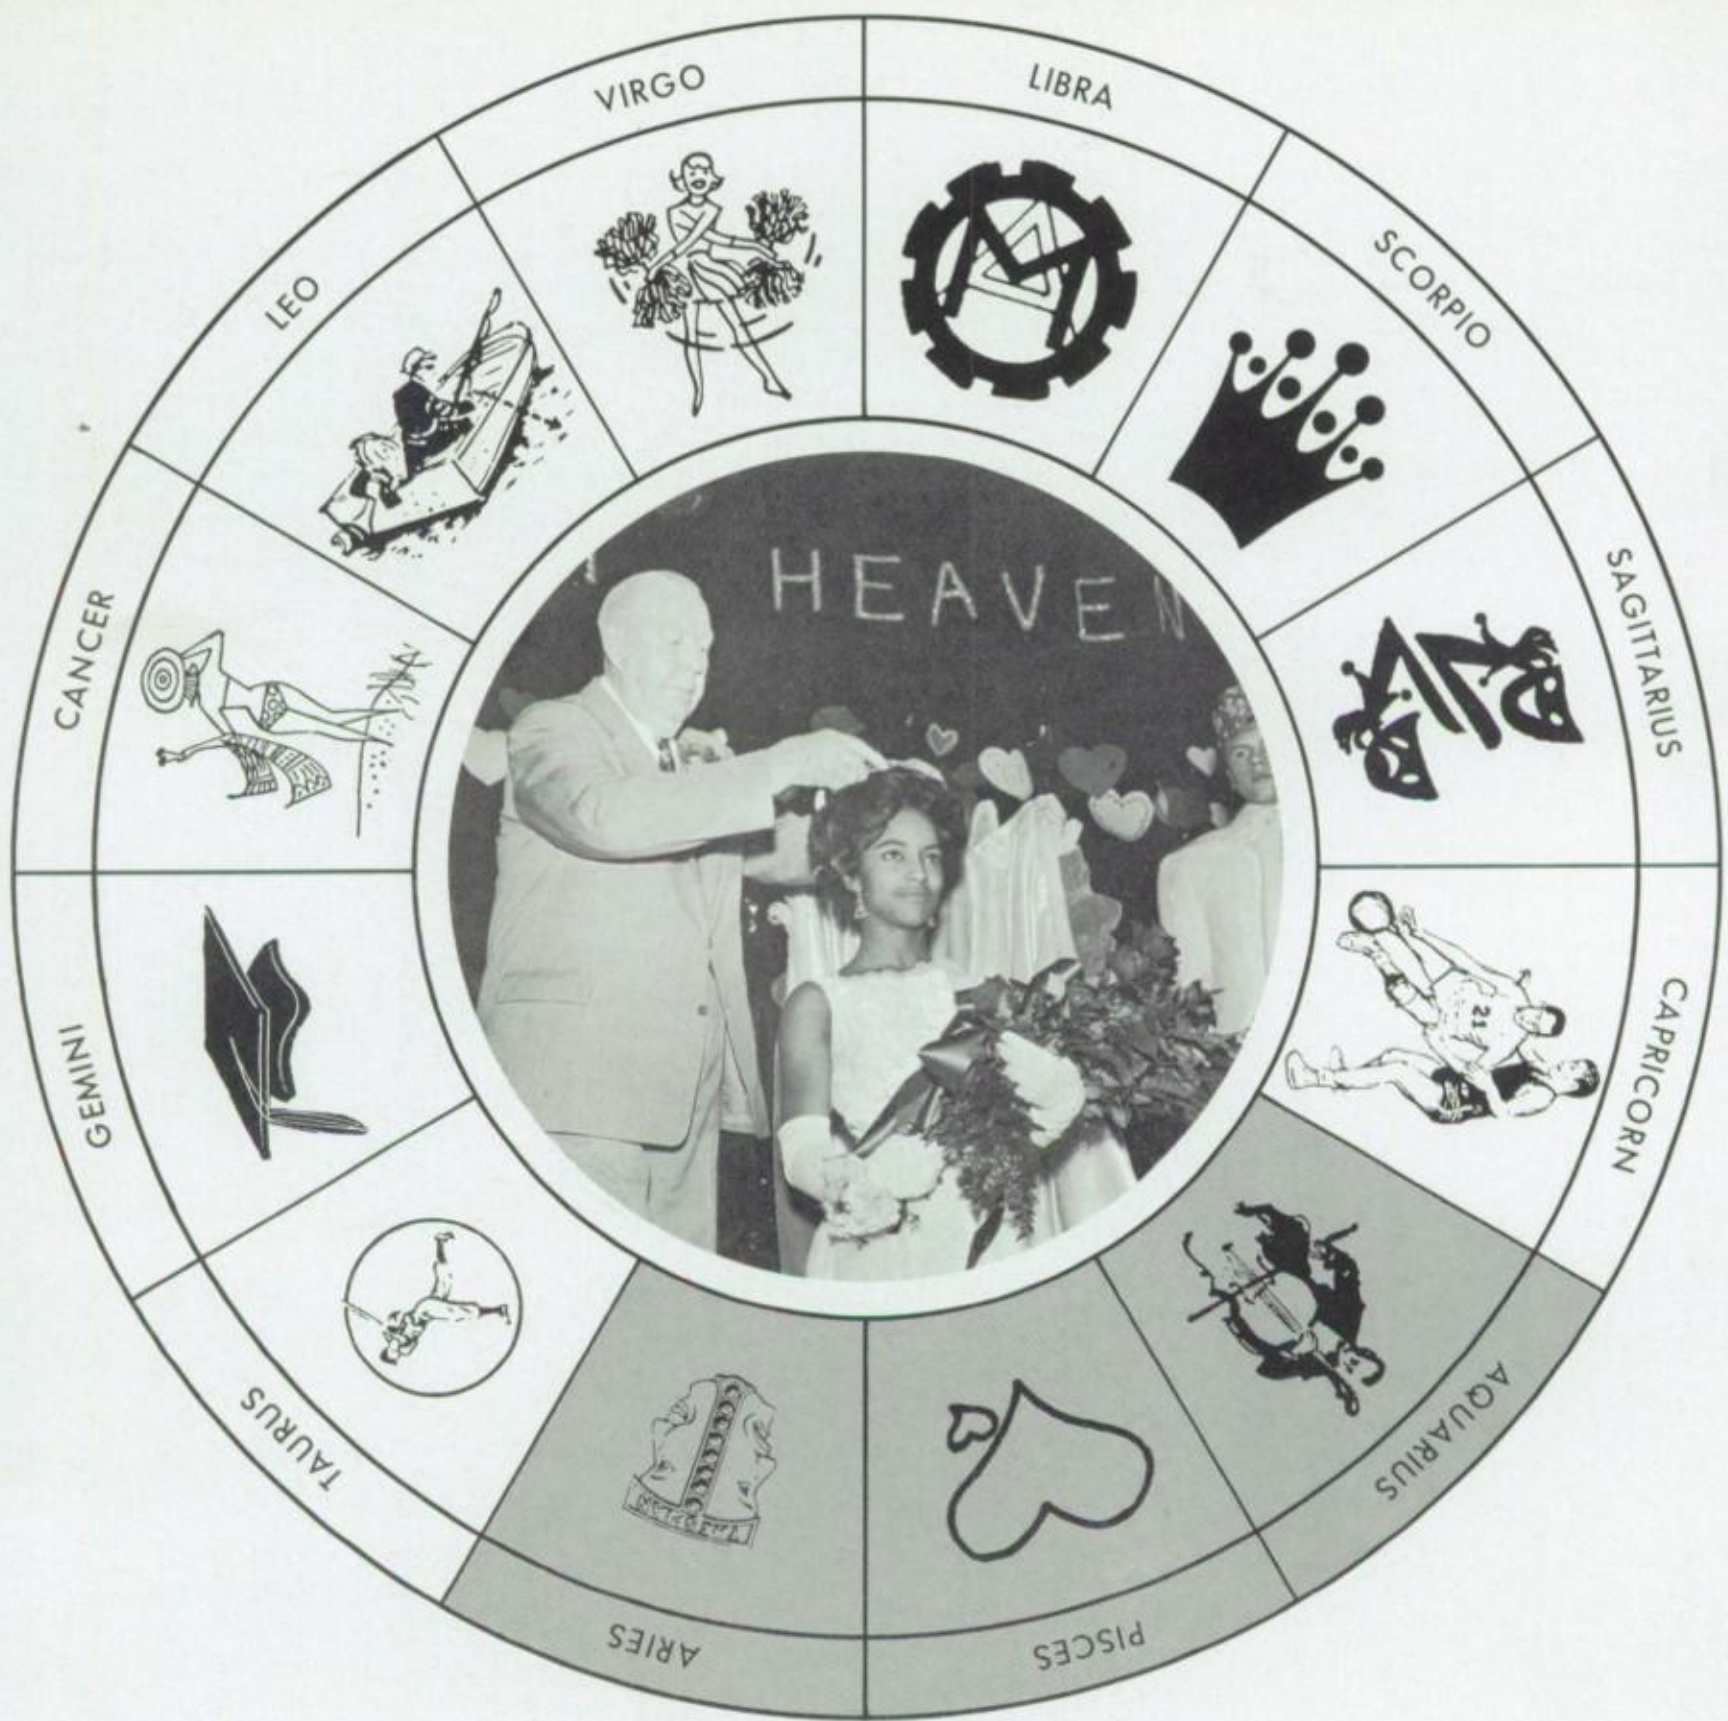

The year's activities of the Junior Red Cross ended in the annual Red Cross Drive which every school takes a part in. Mechanic Arts can be proud of the work Mr. Kerrick and his group has done to make this year's drive a success.

On February 10: A New Queen and King of Hearts

Amid the screams and cheers of the audience, Don Hedberg and Roxanne Price were crowned King and Queen of the 1967 Sweetheart Ball. The tension that had been building up during the week was finally released, and everyone was permitted to go home and prepare for the big dance, the Sweetheart Ball.

The stage was a mass of hearts, cupids, and flowers, and was certainly one of the most beautifully decorated in the history of Mechanic Arts.

All during the day, flustered journalism students scurried about the halls singing the famed cupi-grams to the chagrin and embarrassment of many red-faced students.

The Student Council succeeded in getting Michael's Mystics, one of the best bands in the Twin Cities to play for our dance. The tremendous turnout for the dance was pleasing to the Council and all the students who attended.

Excitement, laughter, disappointment, and nostalgia: all this and more was experienced on that February 10, and the entire day will long be remembered by M.A. students.

Band Gains In Size, Quality, And Appearance

No one will question the fact when it is said that Mechanic Arts is blessed with the finest band director in the city. For those who need proof, they only have to take a look at our band. Three years ago, Mr. Ronald McGinnis came to Mechanic Arts to develop a school band. There weren't many instruments or interested students to help him. All he had were the best wishes of the faculty and the knowledge that if anyone could do it, he was the one.

For three years, Mr. McGinnis worked hard and this year the results of his work have really become noticeable. With new blue and white uniforms and new instruments, the Mechanic Arts High School Band is now able to take their place with the bands of other schools.

With an increase of more than 50% in band membership, the band was able to give concerts over Christmas vacation at Scheffer, Jackson, Lindsay, and Crowley schools.

The finale of the band's work for the school year is the concert they put on in the spring with Miss Klein's choir. The spring concert is one of the last public appearances of the band for the year and each member does his best to make it their outstanding performance.

Besides giving concerts throughout the year, the band was present at football, basketball, and hockey games, cheering the team on to victory.

All in all, it has been a year of hard work and success for Mr. McGinnis and all the band members. With the addition of popular music and jazz to liven up their concert performances, M.A.'s band will be able to stay one of the top bands in the city.

Gymnasts Lack Experience, Finish Last

Lack of experience was the main problem confronting the 1967 apparatus team. Only one letterman, senior captain Sam Swartz, returned from last year's squad. The gymnasts won only one meet out of seven. Their victory was a 68-67 win over Monroe.

The Trainer's leading scorers were: Bill Wood, class "B", who worked the trampoline, mats, horse, high bar, rings, and parallel bars; Captain Sam Swartz, class "A", who worked the mats and did free exercise; Ron Triemle, who worked the high bar, horse, and rings; and Phil Balsimo, class "B", who worked the mats and parallel bars.

Speech Club Does "Our Town"

"M.Y.O.B., Mind Your Own Business!" was the famous and much repeated cry of Speech Club director, Mr. Jacobson, throughout the year. Struggling under the influence of this well intentioned advice, the members of the club endeavored to present first class productions for the enjoyment of the entire student-faculty body of Mechanic Arts.

After the success of the 1966 Vodvil Revue, the club members relaxed for awhile, but not for long! Almost too soon work began on the Class Play. After the gruelling tension of tryouts and long rehearsals, "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder, was staged in April, 1967. After its overwhelming success the club members were allowed to sit back and take pride in a job well done.

Club members who had accumulated the necessary amount of hours on stage were honored in becoming members of The National Thespian Society. These students are hopefully our actors and actresses of tomorrow.

Late In April: Our Town

This year Mechanic Art's Speech Club presented Our Town, by Thornton Wilder, one of America's best-loved plays. Our Town is the beautiful depiction of human life, and how we do not fully appreciate life, until it is over and gone.

The play is set in a typical small U.S.A. town, Grovers Corners. As the story unravels it centers around the Gibbs and Webb families. Through their actions, the realization of how wonderful life can be, but rarely is, is beautifully brought out.

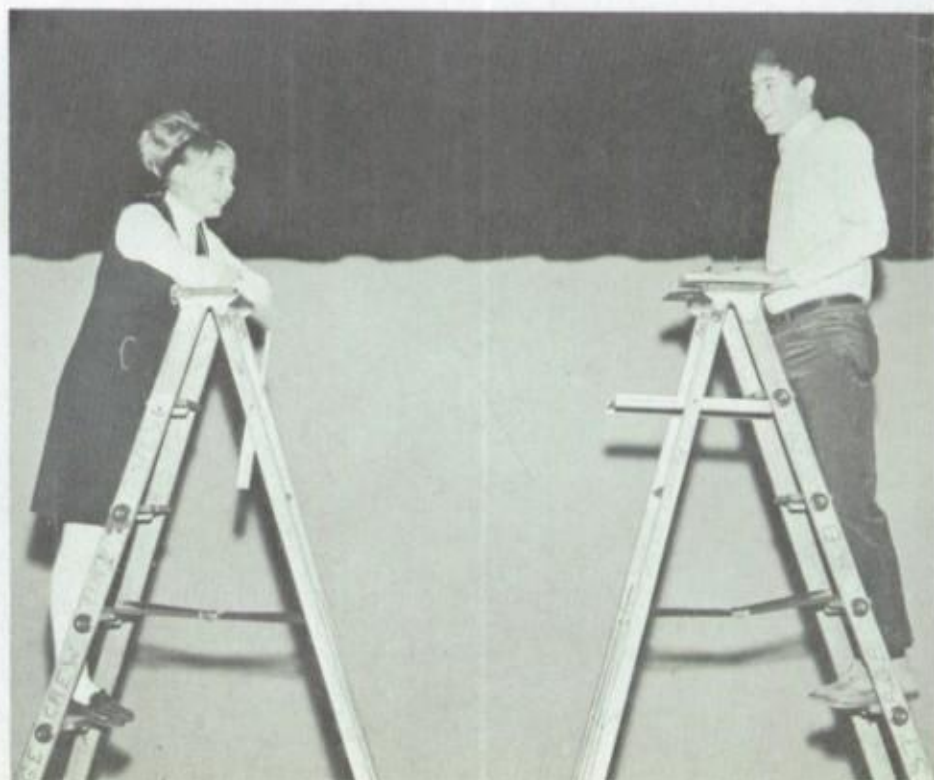

Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Gibbs wave good-bye to their children who are leaving for school.

Trackmen Enthusiastic About Season

The 1967 track team, coached by Mr. Brill, is very enthusiastic about the upcoming season although they are expected to have a building year. This year's team should be able to fill all events and eliminate costly forfeits. The cinder-men may be the "dark horse" of the league this season.

Hopefuls to lead this year's team are seniors Joe Gutterman, Gary Schmieg, Noah Shelton, and juniors Calvin Jones, and Mike Roberts.

The "B" cinder-men under the coaching of Mr. Beissler are much stronger this year. The large turnout of twenty-five boys, and their enthusiasm, pleased Coaches Brill and Beissler greatly. Coach Beissler expressed hopes of winning the junior varsity championship this year.

Golf And Tennis Teams Lack Experience

Tennis

This year's tennis team, coached by Mr. Hinshaw, is once again suffering from lack of talent and experience. Letterman John O'Brien will be forced to carry the team this year as the Trainers attempt to win their first tennis match in twenty-five years. However, the hopes of doing this are very low because the team is not balanced.

Mr. Hinshaw hopes to develop the underclassmen into an effective team, and he hopes that we will have a winning team before too long.

Golf

Coach Welsch sees this year as a building year for the golf team. Sophomore Tom Neilson is the only boy on this year's golf team that has ever played in a match. He's also the only sure member of this year's team.

Last year's team won two matches. These were the first golf victories that anybody could remember, and Coach Welsch would like to win at least one match again this year.

If the young golfers keep up the enthusiasm that is needed for a good team they will be one in a year or two.

The Year For Spanish Club: Busy

A busy organization at Mechanic Arts was the Spanish Club. At their bi-monthly meetings on Thursday mornings before school, lively discussions took place as to what to do, what to see, and when to find time for these activities.

In April the entire club took a trip to Minneapolis and ate breakfast at La Casa Coronada, a Spanish restaurant. Also in April, the club attended the International Language Festival at Harding High School.

As a money-raising project, the club sold do-nuts at the 1966 Vodvil Revue, and were very successful.

Besides taking pleasure in outside activities, the Spanish Club had fun within itself, such as a rollicking Christmas party at the home of Mr. Williams, the club's director.

French Club Provides Year Of Learning And Fun

Our new French teacher, Mrs. Mykkala, helps a couple of students with the problems of French.

"Parlez-vous francais?" "Do you speak French?" This is a question asked the members of Mechanic Arts French Club, and with dubious expressions they replied, "Oui, Oui", "Yes, Yes!"

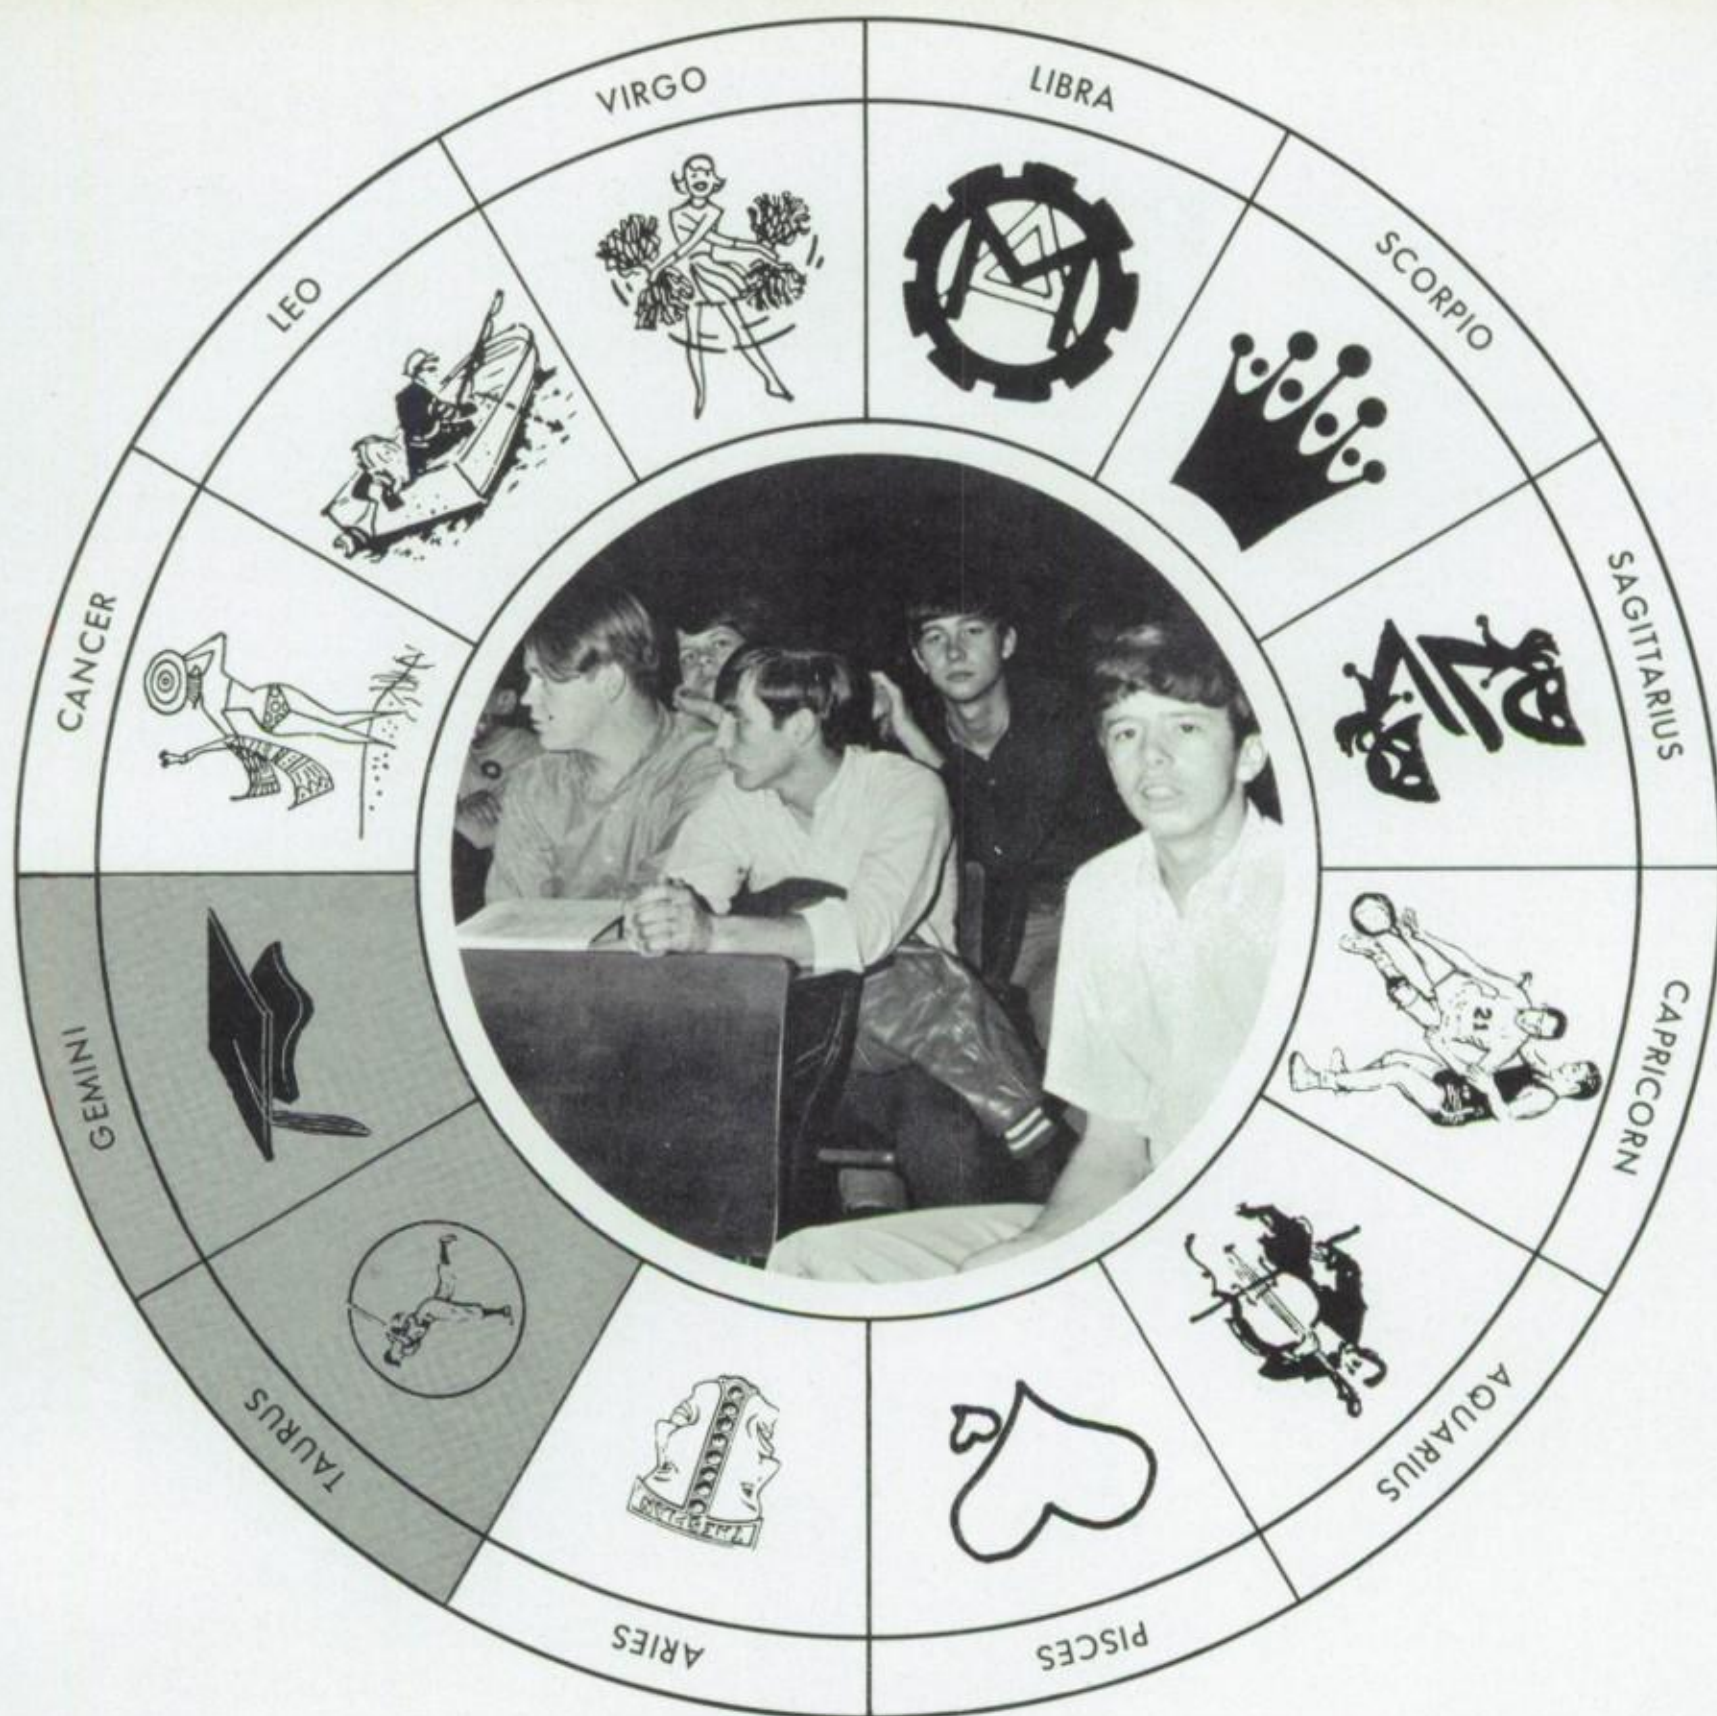

Room 418, fifth period is the so-called "French hour". Consequently during lunch students could be seen hurriedly studying up on those verbs, and nouns.

We have a new French teacher this year, Mr. Mykkala. She travels from school to school, so she's not a regular at Mechanic Arts.

Unfortunately, this is the last year that Mechanic Arts will offer French, but many Mechanic Arts will remember those rousing French classes, fifth hour, in rooms 402 and 418.

From Ballet To Physics For Seminar Members

One of the busiest, and certainly most traveled, organizations at Mechanic Arts, is the Honors Seminar Society. Juniors and seniors who maintained B averages or better were welcomed into the society.

Honors Seminar meetings were periods of lively discussion where topics ranging from ballet to the New York Stock Exchange were heatedly debated between the members.

The meetings were held at various places around the Twin Cities, but this winter two meetings had to be cancelled because of the terrible driving conditions.

A visit was taken to the Andehazy School of Ballet and the Seminar members found the visit to be tremendously interesting. Watching the ballet students was fascinating, and the members were glad to put this visit into their bag of cultural experiences. Another time the members paid a visit to the Pioneer Building where they were conducted on a tour of the Payne and Weber Stock Brokers Incorporated office. Demonstrations were given to show how the office receives all the market prices every hour of every day. Besides attending seminars outside of school, members of our faculty were asked to give seminars. Mr. Stringer, the physics instructor, for instance, gave a very enlightening seminar on the various everyday applications of physics.

Each year all activities culminate in the annual trip to Chicago, and this year was no exception! Sight-seeing trips, shopping in the Chicago "Loop", and residing in the Sherman House Hotel all helped to end a good year in a perfect way.

Spring Showers For "Gardens of Shangri-la"

"Gardens of Shangri-la" was the theme, and it set the mood for Mechanic Arts 1966 Junior-Senior Prom, held in May at Hamline University's Student Center.

In the ballroom flowers could be seen everywhere, and their mingled scents produced a romantically nostalgic atmosphere. In one corner of the room the "Garden of Shangri-la" had been re-created. It provided a romantic walk for couples strolling down its flowery pathways, music by Ted Guzman's Orchestra, lovely scenery and girls and their escorts dressed up for the grand occasion; all contributed to an affair that will be fondly remembered by all that attended the 1966 Junior-Senior Prom.

Batmen Seek City; Depend On Balance

Coach Jerry Keenan's "A" baseball team boasts hopes of winning the city title this year. The main reason for this statement is the fact that the batmen have balance in all departments.

In past years the Trainers have had only one or two standouts, but this year promises a better all-round club. Although without the services of two graduates Terry McGlone, the city's leading batter last year, and Bob Janu, their homerun threat, Mechanics will look to its four seniors to fill the gap.

With seniors Bill Klecker, Ken Darwin, Ed Anderson, and Jim Puariea having a year's experience under their belts, the batmen hope to spread this around to the rest of the squad.

The battery will be the most important for the Trainers. If Puariea and junior Tom Hart, the batmen's pitcher, come through, it should be an exciting year. The catching chores are undecided at the moment, but junior Dave Weldon has the best chance of filling the vacancy.

Mechanics' infield should sparkle on defense with Klecker at first base, Darwin guarding the shortstop position, Roger Kuhn or Jerry Robinson at second and junior Jerry Wiley on third. Coach Keenan feels that if his pitching and infield are strong from start to finish, they may have a productive season. Another factor going for the Trainers this year will be their speed.

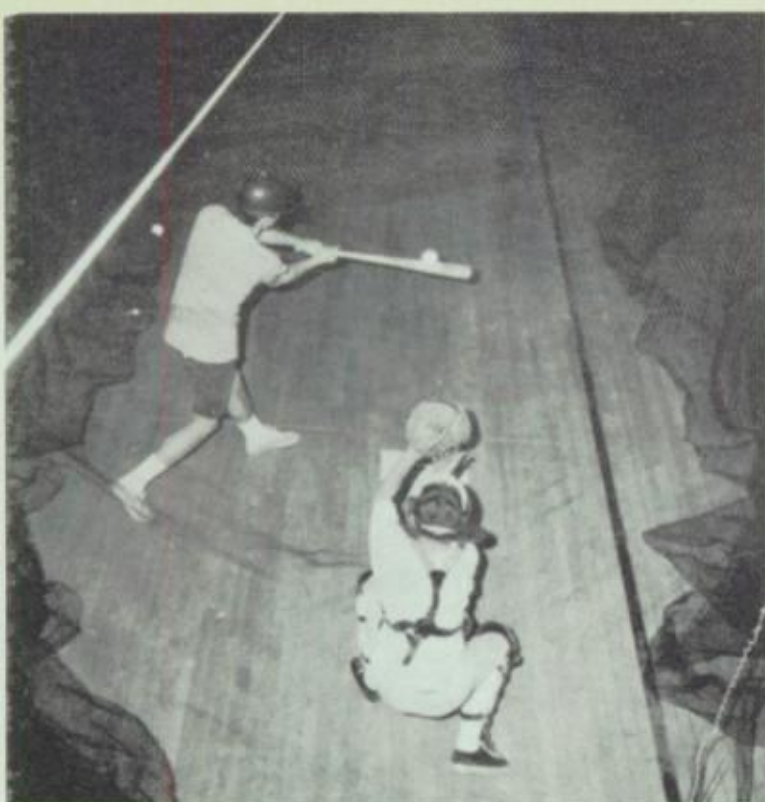

Patrolling the outfield will be Anderson in center with juniors Pat Finnigan, Roger Wienke, Orville Whitney, and Robert Howard deciding the other two positions.

"B" Baseballers Stronger

Coach Bjorklund expressed great optimism about this year's "B" Baseball team and the contribution it will make to next year's "A" squad.

Thirty boys showed their interest in playing by turning up at the first "B" squad meeting.

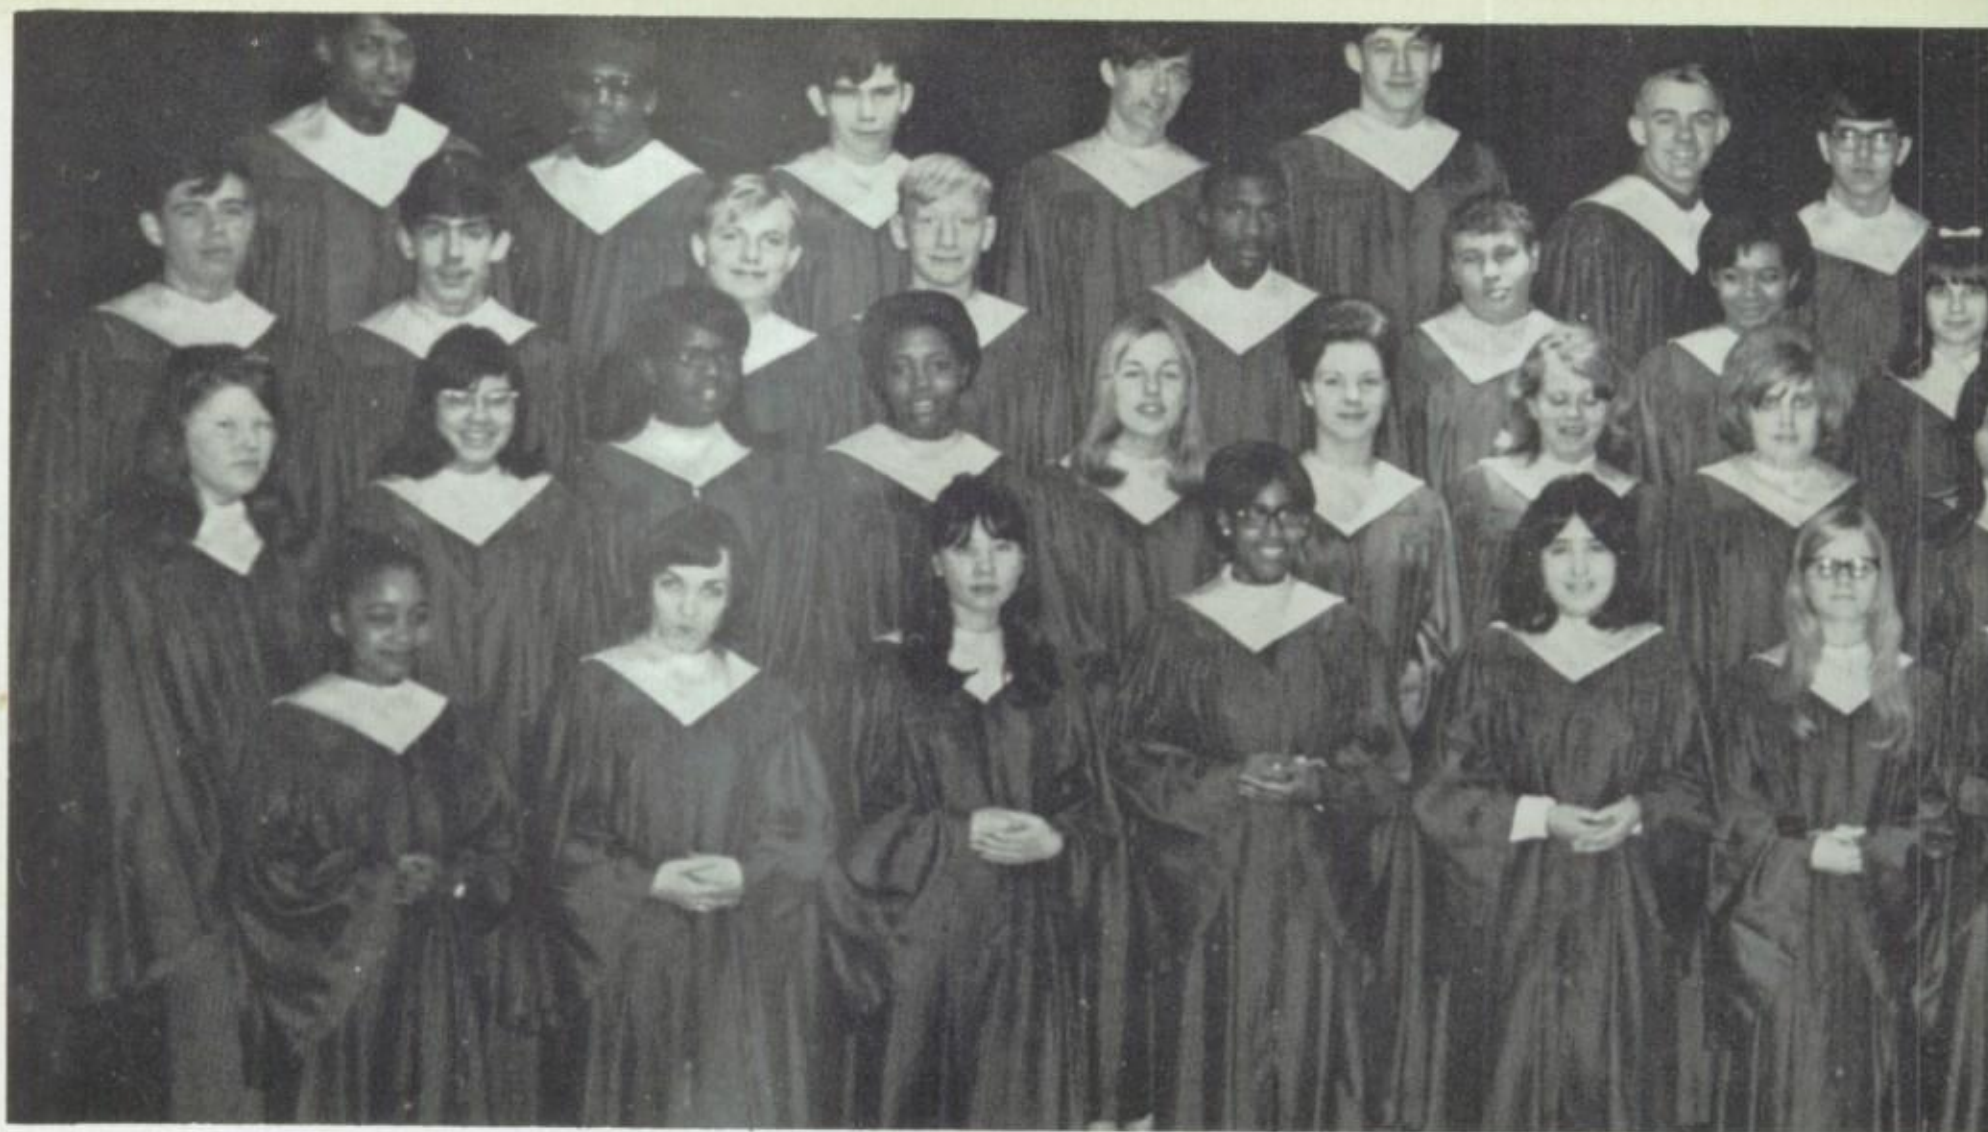

The "B" squaders are aiming at the first division and are determined to break the .500 mark in wins and losses.

"A" squad coach, Mr. Keenan, can look forward to a great contribution to the "A" battery. The senior varsity has been lacking in pitching and catching depth, and the contribution of pitchers Mike Johnson, and Gregg McGrath, and catchers Mark Morris and Byron Robinson should solve this problem next year.

Choirs Provide Enjoyment At Assemblies And Spring Concert

On many a school day faint strains of singing voices might be heard echoing through the halls of Mechanic Arts. These sounds could be traced to Room 419, where the music department was transferred to this year.

Miss Klein, the choir director, stated, "The A Choir is one of the best I've ever had. Their tone quality is excellent." A Choir, the largest group under Miss Klein's direction, was kept busy jumping in and out of their choir robes, performing for all of Mechanic Art's major assemblies. One unfortunate incident for this year's choir was the absence of risers at the Thanksgiving assembly, but "A" Choir came through and did a fine job.

The Trainells are an ensemble made up of twenty Mechanic Arts students. All their practicing was done outside of school hours, usually every Wednesday before school. The Trainells traveled around quite a bit this year. During Christmas they made ten guest appearances outside of school.

Girls' Chorus is made up of mostly freshmen and sophomores. With daily practice the girls worked toward their appearance in the Music Department's annual Spring Concert.

Words cannot possibly describe the innumerable tensions, emotional disturbances, and profound feelings of relief that went along with being on the 1967 "M" Staff.

Taking pictures, drawing layouts, writing copy: All these contributed to the general blur of action that accompanied producing an actual book.

And those deadlines!! The week before deadlines, the Staff walked about in a world containing only pictures, paper cutters, and copy! Undoubtedly they had serious doubts as to their sanity, or insanity, but fried chicken at 1:00 A.M. did the trick every time in reviving them sufficiently to do more work and more work and more work!!!

Senior Endeavors - Reward: Freedom

With questions from ACT tests, College Entrance Board Exams, and applications for jobs dancing through their heads, the Class of 1967 was a very preoccupied group, to say the least. Nevertheless, the seniors managed, spirits undaunted, to throw themselves into the thick of school activities, with lots of fervor and enthusiasm.

First on the senior agenda was preparation for Homecoming 1966. Rushing to and fro, the seniors planned all Homecoming activities, from selecting candidates to planning the big dance.

Almost before they could catch their breath, the seniors became immersed in early plans for graduation. Announcements, called "Slim Jims," were chosen, and directly afterwards the senior representatives put their heads together and selected caps and gowns. For the first time the senior class deviated from their traditional color scheme of navy blue and white. Caps and gowns of powder blue were chosen for the girls, with navy blue for the boys.

Despite being busy with plans for graduation, the seniors still took their places as the leaders of Mechanic Arts. Seniors headed the productions staff, while also leading the publications staff to a bigger and better quality yearbook, and newspaper.

Dreading, yet anticipating that supposedly longed-for "after-graduation freedom," the seniors of Mechanic Arts will fondly remember the years spent within its hallowed halls.

SENIOR OFFICERS: Vice President, Charlene Belden; President, Rene Lewis; Treasurer, Linda O'Connell; Secretary, Avis Smith. Advisors: Mr. Jacobsen and Mr. Janisch.

Surprise! As Avis Smith is chosen Homecoming Queen of 1966.

"I sure wish this pest would go somewhere else with his corny jokes!"

"I seem to have sewn one of my rings into the material."

"I wonder how he'd get along with my cat."

"If she starts telling me again about how she used to be tall and willowy, I'll die!"

Here's Mr. Munns, former M. A. English teacher and now area supervisor for many Mechanic Arts NYC enrollees.

"Don't worry, she'll never miss just one."

"Yes, it's an old family recipe . . . chicken liver souffle."

Like Stars.....

"Aren't these Geisha boys wonderful?"

LEFT: "Maybe he can walk on water, but I can run!"

RIGHT: "Isn't this all a bit silly?"

"Listen, Miss, only orange and cola. Besides, your not 21!"

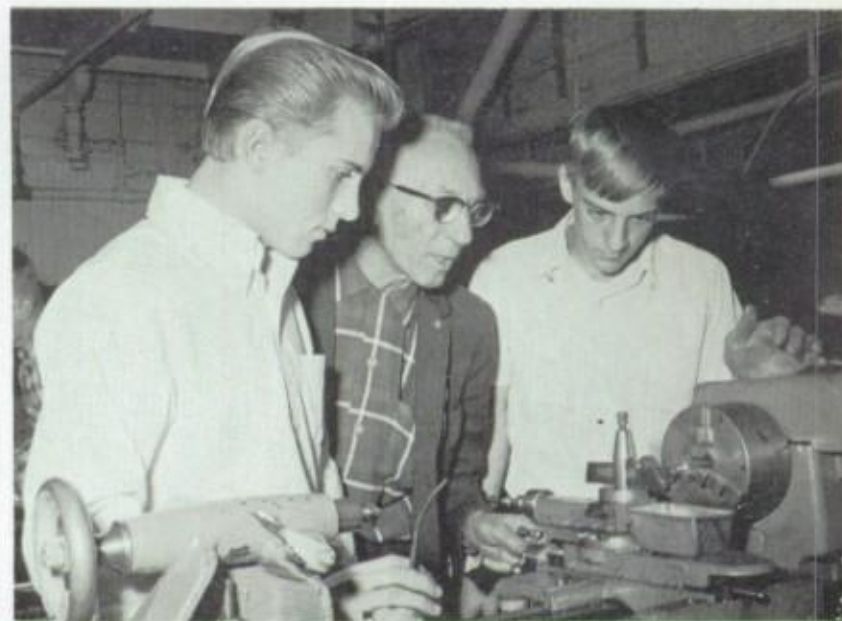

RIGHT: Now there's something you don't see every day!

In Our Universe

"How about lending him your button, Frank?"

"Why, you're right! It does pick up 'Lunch With Casey'!"

LEFT: "Yes, it's quite fascinating. Now can I have my bubble-gum back?"

"I gave 'im the old one-two. He's being taken away now."

Epilogue

Now that my years at Mechanic Arts are coming to an end, I want to express my gratitude for being able to record the last one. I'll never forget the experiences that come from performing such a task and the maturing effect it has had on myself and those connected.

I wish to thank the Del Larson Studio for the pictures, Mr. Janisch for his never-failing "advice", Mr. Fred Fredell for publication, and my loyal staff, without whom this book could never have been.
